STATUTORY NOTICES UNDER THE PATENTS ACT (NO. 40)

PATENT APPLICATIONS LODGED. (BB/CA)

Specifications of the undermentioned applications for letters have been accepted by the Registrar of Patents and can now be inspected by the public at the Patents Office, at a charge, during business hours. Photocopies of these specifications, drawings and other documents of these applications are obtainable, at a charge, from the Patent Office. In terms of section 56 of the Patents Act, any person interested may within three months of the date of publication hereof (or within such further period as the Registrar may, on application to him within that period allow or, with the consent of the patent applicant, at any time before the grant of a patent on the application) object to the grant of the patent by filing at the Patent Office a notice of opposition on Patents Form No. 12.

(73)	Jeremiah Chella and Jameson Mbale
(57)	The invention relates to an Intelligent On-Board Weigh-Bridge for Axle Loading, Overload Detection and Automated Road-User Fee Settlement System (I-OALODS) (1), distinctively engineered to function as an on-board weigh-bridge that determines

	vehicle-weight compliance in real time across Zambia's national and regional road network without reliance on fixed weigh-bridge infrastructure. The invention further autonomously computes statutory charges, communicates violations to regulatory authorities, and executes electronic payment settlement through bank (19) connected interfaces, ensuring instant accountability. In addition, a mobile application (16) offers real-time dashboards, alerts, fee prompts, and digital compliance receipts. By decentralising enforcement to the truck (2) itself and automating communication and financial workflows, the invention eliminates weigh-bridge queues of trucks (2), enhances operational efficiency, and delivers a scalable, tamper-resistant national compliance solution. The system comprises electronic axle (3, 4) mounted weight sensors (5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10) and load-cell amplifier modules (12), an ESP32 microcontroller (11) programmed to compute axle loads (3, 4), gross vehicle weight (GVW) (15), tare weight (15), and payload (15), and a relay-driven alert interface that notifies drivers of overload conditions. Processed weight data is transmitted wirelessly to a central Road Development Agency (RDA) database (14) for compliance verification, statutory fee computation, and penalty assessment, with the results forwarded to the National Road Fund Agency (NRF A) (18) and banking (19) institutions.

(57)	Systems and methods for electromagnetic induction include a first electrically, conducting loop including multiple lengths of electrically conductive tubing, each length of electrically conductive tubing at least partially composed of a first electrically 5 conducting composite material with a specific conductivity higher than aluminum, the plurality of lengths of electrically conductive tubing being connected to form a rigid closed loop having a perimeter of 3 meters or more. A second electrically conducting loop is electrically isolated from the first electrically conducting loop. A control module includes a signal generator in electrical communication with the first electrically 10 conducting loop and configured to vary a current in the first electrically conducting loop to periodically apply an excitation magnetic field to a volume proximate to the first electrically conducting loop and to detect, using the second electrically conducting loop, changes in a magnetic field generated by a substance in the volume.

(54)	The present invention provides an intelligent on-board biometric screening and immigration-alert system configured for installation on public service buses, coaches, and other passenger-carrying vehicles. The system performs real-time identity verification of passengers as they board by capturing fingerprint and facial biometric data through a dual-modality sensor integrated at the bus's entry point. An embedded esp32-s3 or equivalent edge-al processor performs feature extraction, anti-spoof analysis, and template encryption before transmitting passenger data to a central immigration intelligence system via a secured communication module comprising 4g/5g, lorawan, and wi-fi interfaces. The central system performs biometric matching, travel-document verification, permit validity checks, blacklist comparison, and risk scoring. If a passenger is identified as a prohibited immigrant or as a person travelling on falsified documents, the system instantly transmits an encrypted

	silent alert to the immigration terminal at the next checkpoint. Upon receiving the alert, immigration officers are provided with the bus gps location, estimated arrival time, and the flagged passenger's identity, enabling timely interception without delaying the bus or inconveniencing compliant passengers. This invention significantly reduces manual inspection times, prevents long delays, enhances national security, and provides an automated, accurate, and non-intrusive method for detecting illegal immigrants travelling aboard public service vehicles.

(57)	The invention relates to an intelligent on-board biometric (3, 4, 5) passenger screening and automated immigration alert system for public service buses (2). The system comprises an intelligent biometric (3, 4, 5) screening device mounted at a passenger boarding point of a bus (2), an on-board processing unit configured to locally capture and process passenger biometric (3) data and associated identity metadata, and a secure wireless (8) communication subsystem. Biometric (3, 4,.5) screening is performed on-board the bus (2) during boarding, enabling identification of passengers with unauthorized or flagged immigration status without interrupting normal transit operations. Upon detection of a flagged passenger, the system automatically generates and transmits a silent, encrypted alert message to a remote server (10) for delivery to an immigration officer (11d) stationed at a next designated checkpoint (11 d), together with bus (2) location information derived from an on-board positioning module. By providing advance, location-aware notification prior to arrival at the checkpoint (11 d), the invention enables targeted immigration intervention (11 d) while eliminating manual inspection procedures and reducing delays at checkpoints (11 d). The system thereby improves operational efficiency, enhances border and immigration enforcement, and minimizes passenger disruption
